

Rowing across the Tasman How did he minimize the risk before he started? Machine for changing the water from salt to fresh Took a long time building his boat so that everything was right Having a rescue plan Made sure he had enough food- How did he know how much to take. <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• By knowing the distance</li> <li>• How long it was likely to take</li> <li>• How far he could travel each day</li> </ul> Choosing the time when the weather is the best Asking his dad	Early Maori coming to NZ How did they minimize the risk? They might ask someone how long it might take them. Might have sent someone over to discover things first Practice rowing to be better. Strong wood to build the canoes. Shape the waka to move faster Make the canoe stable. They thought for a long time. Plan how much water they would need. Take fishing equipment. More people to get to NZ faster. Problems Heavier, more waka, arguments, food, run out of water, accidents, Helpful Move faster, when in danger more to help, back up people to row, wouldn't have to stop to sleep. Take weapons Take medicines to help with illnesses. Take lots of food. Plan how much food they would need to get to NZ.
Why did he take the risk? <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Wanted to be the 2nd person to row across the Tasman</li> <li>• Wanted to be like his dad</li> <li>• To set a goal for himself and achieve it - challenge</li> <li>• Loved rowing so an extension of something he loved doing.</li> </ul>	Why did they take the risk? Wanted a better place to live for their families. Wanted to explore. Start a new life Liked the land First people to see the country
What were the possible risks? Boat could have broken up-sunk Washed off the boat Eaten by a shark Might have missed NZ and kept on going Lost Run out of food Died	What were the possible risks? Boat could have broken up-sunk Washed off the boat Eaten by a shark Might have missed NZ and kept on going Lost Run out of food Died What might the possible risks be once they arrived in NZ? Life or death Lack of food To exhausted to help themselves get what they

	needed. Could have got lost in the NZ bush. May have been near a volcanic eruption. Too tired to pull waka up onto land. Injuries Living (where to live and what to make shelter from) Make a civilised home in order to last long term in the NZ environment. Run out of supplies. Lots of water needed to survive.
Two types of Risk	What type of risk was it?
Planned, spontaneous	Planned
	What was the consequences for families?
	Worried Left beyond favourite belongings. Will be some family they will never see again. Making the decision if to move or not. Missed their homeland